

Title: Oshodontics and Illumination Therapy with Devageet

Excerpt:

Oshodontics and Illumination Therapy was initiated for Devageet in a middle-of-the night meeting with Osho, a few weeks before he left his physical body.

A few weeks before Osho left his body he told me that he had "gone into" his body and found "for the first time in the history of Man" that it contains memories, that "the body remembers everything from the beginning of evolution. You will find a way for meditators to release their ancient memories, and this will have two profound effects for each person; firstly, their body will be healed from all the wounds it carries, and secondly, their meditation will be enabled to go deeper to the level where authentic transformation happens." (see www.oshodontics.com for the full story.)

Oshodontics and Illumination Therapy has arisen from Osho's entrustment and guidance. It goes on developing and refining as I find new ways for individuals to reveal and heal themselves.

For many years Transomatic Dialogue was the way for self-healing, and The Akashic Processes gave access to evolutionary memories. Several years ago I found A.U.M chanting could speed and deepen the integration that happens following Transomatic Dialogue. The Mandala of Original Wholeness is another therapeutic dimension that deepens the healing process and opens into its cosmic dimension. Starlight Transomatic Dialogue further refined, speeded and crystallised this way of self-healing by way of remembering and voicing deeply-held memories.

At the beginning of this work I used light-as-colour but found Transomatic Trance more effective. Then came the discovery of precision awareness used to catalyse the process that opens the body from healing-remembering, to experiencing a whole new energetic balance happens simultaneously, which leads to re-integration back to original wholeness, and the natural harmony with nature and the cosmos which becomes available once the body-mind is re-aligned.

Further refinement shows that each chakra can be aligned, by using Starlight Transomatic Dialogue, to restore its Original Wholeness. Original Wholeness results from initiating the process of healing, balancing, integrating and harmonization – the synchronization and resonance with Existential Harmony.

The process of H.B.I.H is the basis of Transomatic Dialogue for Self-Healing.

Thus the body-mind system is restored to its optimal state of energetic flow and original integrity as a unified whole, and begins to synchronize and harmonize with the vitality field of Earth's biosphere.

Each chakra has 12 dimensions of wholeness which are accessed through the 12-Colour spectrum. The 12 colours, together with their corresponding colour in the 7 Energy-bodies, form a colour-Ray. Existential Consciousness can enter the receptive individual via the colour rays linking chakras and energy bodies.

The 12-Colour Rainbow Cascade of Existential Consciousness is the process I have named Cosmosis. It opens an individual to be an open invitation to Existence so that our human potential can be actualised. Oshodontics is Cosmogogenesis.

For me meditation is a profound adventure and my work enthuses people into their own higher possibilities.

Devageet is having a weekend workshop at Croydon Hall in December, but be warned, his enthusiasm is contagious.
